

Qualifications

MA in Cross-Cultural Psychology (2004)

Certificate of participation, Chinese Language at the Beijing Language and Culture University for one year (2002)

Certificate of participation, Trainer of Psychosocial Skills (INTRA)

Profile

Dominika is a qualified and experienced Intercultural Fluency and Diversity Trainer. As a psychologist, facilitator and supervisor specialising in intercultural dialogue she has designed and delivered more than 5000 hours of interactive workshops and training for different clients from business, public administration and non-governmental sectors. She has worked as a researcher and lecturer in higher education institutions in Poland and abroad, as well as an executive of the International Cooperation Office in one of the Polish universities. Her extensive multicultural teaching experience is based on working in Hungary, Sweden, United Kingdom, Turkey, Kosovo, Moldova, Ukraine and China over a period of fifteen years. She delivers courses on cultural adaptation and intercultural fluency for university students, lecturers and administrative staff. She is the author of more than 30 academic and non-academic publications about diversity and intercultural issues. Her course of the cultural adaptation for Erasmus Students was named "the good practice of mobility" by National Agency of Erasmus Program in Poland.